Dear Mr. Palma:

The Billiard Congress of America (BCA) is fully supportive of your newest project, "9-Ball", a feature-length film about an aspiring professional billiard champion on the women's pro tour, starring Jennifer Barretta, of the Women's Professional Billiard Association (WPBA).

As the governing body of billiards in North America, the BCA's mission is to promote billiards to the general public in the endeavor to make pool everybody's game. We accomplish this mission by placing articles in national and regional magazines and newspapers, coordinating TV and radio guest appearances by billiard pros and highlighting BCA Business Member products in print and electronic media.

The BCA sponsors two major televised events, the EnjoyPool.com 9-Ball Championships, played each year in Las Vegas and televised on ESPN and ESPN1, and the EnjoyPool.com Battle of the BCA Champions, a new made-for-TV event featuring twelve top billiard champions playing 8-Ball in fun home gameroom setting, which will also be broadcast on ESPN2.

Creating a movie dedicated to the exciting and competitive world of professional women's billiards will be a great boost to the sport and the industry. In addition to wishing you success, the BCA will offer its support in promoting the completed project to its members, the industry at large and the general public.

Sincerely,

Stephen D. Ducoff
BCA Executive Director
